LATEST NEWS

PRESS TELEGRAMS.

The following epitome of the latest news by telegraph, from all quarters, is taken from our colleagues—

Montevideo 26

Said that persons who have been in communication with the Gironde have landed here. This is very serious. I am told that the vigilance in the Lazzaretto is a farce.

Fiesta on board the ironclad Andes was postponed yesterday, owing to bad weather.

Department of Salto inundated in several parts. Half the town of Artigas is flooded by the Yaguaron.

Some political "novedades" are expected next week.

At San Jose a negro broke open his coffin as it was being lowered into the grave, causing awful terror. He died afterwards.

Sea burst into several houses at the South end of town.

Rosario 26.

Iriondo said yesterday at the banquet that the National Government will rescind the contract for the wharf here and ask Congress for two millions pats to build it for account of the State.

Ball at Phœnix Club very poorly attended.

No change in money market.

THE CENTRAL NORTHERN RAILWAY

The Tucuman Railway, or as it is called in official quarters, the Central Northern Railway, and still better known abroad as the great railway which Count Telfener constructed, continues to be the bugbear of the National Government. During the crisis, when Argentines suffered hunger and thirst, in order to meet the obligations on the debt, the opposition press attacked the Government, the railway and the contractor, on the plea that millions were being made out of the business. Nobody then believed in the railway and very few believed in the country. When the railway was finished and the crisis was over, it was generally anticipated that the railway was badly constructed, that the sleepers were rotten, that the engines were worthless, and that the waggons would go to pieces; the country itself was viewed in about the same light as the railway, a concern that was not expected to pay a brass farthing. Times have changed and opinions also, but unfortunately, the extension of the railway to Jujuy and Salta has inherited all the embryonic woes that rocked the cradle of the mother trunk line.

The members of the opposition in Congress wish to know how it happens that after twelve months' work with close on 2,000 navvies, the extension has only advanced 25 kilometres? The interpellation to the Government is most rational, since it appears incredible that 2,000 men cannot push a railway faster ahead than at the rate of 25 kilometres per annum. Furthermore, Congress wishes to be informed why such gigantic earthworks were made when a different route along the plain would have been a saving of much labour and of much money. We are informed that there is a road from Tucuman to Saladillo for cart traffic, which is not only shorter by half than the railway route, but is also far more accessible and needs less work than the railway route.

The delays about the extension of the Tucuman Railway are incomprehensible in the eyes of the public. The Andine Railway has been pushed ahead with feverish activity, and the rails are already in the Province of Mendoza. The Tucuman line, constructed by Count Telfener, was completed in four years. The actual Jujuy and Salto line meantime will not be finished before the end of the century, if the works are pushed ahead at the present rate of 25 kilometres per annum. The interpellation, it must be confessed, meets with the decided approval of the public, and all are most anxious to know how it will end. It remains to be seen on whose shoulders the responsibility of these serious mistakes falls.

The railway loan launched in 1881 will be quite inadequate to meet the expenses of the extension, and the Government will be obliged to apply for fresh funds to complete the most expensive railway ever constructed in the Republic. The route passes through a country full of obstacles to a railroad, and the fact accounts for the heavy budget cost of the line. But, when these expenses are increased by engineering errors, and the Treasury has to pay for same, it is to be hoped that the interpellation in Congress will result in measures that may establish a precedent that will prevent a repetition of such errors.

Viaducts and tunnels are most expensive luxuries; and the construction of same, when not needed, is a financial joke played on the Treasury, which means the tax-payers, of the country. All await with anxiety the results of the interpellation; and if anything is to be deplored, it is the nomination of Congressmen, instead of engineers, to sift a question of such great importance.

The five members that compose the committee to study the question are most honourable gentlemen, but their classical lore is of little use in an engineering imbroglio. At all events, somebody must be wrong, and the public hope to be acquainted with the particulars of the case before the honourable gentlemen withdraw to their provinces.

Telfener, with all his faults and shortcomings, would have the line halffinished by this time.

LIVERPOOL PROGRESS.

Liverpool men in the Plate had better hurry back to their native city, before changes are effected that will so alter the Liverpool of former days that they will not know it. By recent advices there are 700 men under the bed of the River Mersey, scooping out a promenade for the people to dear old Birkenhead; another year and the ferry boats will be of the past. The suburbs of Liverpool rival now those of any other city in the United Kingdom, and the great improvements which have been made in the principal streets of the city leave really nothing to ask from the Liverpool Municipality. The tunnel under the Mersey is certainly news for us out here, yet we suppose in the next century they will be making a tunnel from Holyhead to Kingstown. From a recent number of the Times we cut the following:—

"The Tunnel under the Mersey.—The railway tunnel under the Mersey, from Liverpool to Birkenhead, is now being rapidly pushed on towards completion, the works, both on the Cheshire and on the Lancashire sides, being well under the bed of the river, where they are being carried through a stratum of New Red Sandstone, of a very firm description, well adapted for tunnelling, and yielding but little water. The total length of the tunnel will be about three miles, and the length of the sub-aqueous portion three-quarters of a mile; and the work, as a whole, will not only connect the two towns of Liverpool and Birkenhead by local trains, so as to do away with the inconveniences of the ferry boats now in use, but it will also permit the passage of through trains belonging to the several railway companies of the district, all of which will be able to obtain running powers over the underground line. Seven hundred men are now constantly employed on the works; and it is expected that it will be possible to walk through the drainage headings from one side to the other, in the course of the present year, and that trains will be running through the main tunnel in about 18 months or 2 years. The excavations have been carried on, until lately, by pick and shovel; but these are now superseded by the Beaumont boring machine, driven by compressed air, a contrivance which has been in use on the French side of the Channel Tunnel. This machine has been found in practice to accomplish an advance of a quarter of an inch per minute, or ten yards in 24 hours; and at this rate the work is, for the future, expected to be carried on towards its completion."

THE ENGLISH LITERARY SOCIETY.

The first entertainment of this Society takes place at the Coliseum on Wednesday evening, June 6th, when "Villikins and his Dinah" will be performed with entirely new music.

The English Literary Society has now become one of the most representative British institutions of Buenos Ayres; and it deserves its success, for a more useful association could not exist.

The Winter Session of the Society is specially devoted to Essay evenings or debates; and the month usually closes with a well-got-up dramatic and musical entertainment.

The subscription is so ridiculously low in comparison with the advantages derived by membership, being $300 % per annum, and that payable in three instalments, that we have no doubt every new English arrival will avail himself of the convenience and pleasure to be obtained by joining this excellent association.

The library is certainly the best one we know of, as an English library, in the Plate, numbering some 1500 volumes, and containing works suitable to every taste. These are being continually added to by the Honorary Librarian, a gentleman of culture and much book knowledge. Then, again, the newspaper and periodical department includes most of the local papers and almost every daily and weekly issue of importance published in London, as also several of the United States newspapers; in fact, a better selection we have rarely met with in any club-room.

Although the Society at present has only rented premises at the Hotel Anchorena, the number of its members is increasing weekly; and we trust it may not be very long ere it may be able to make arrangements for a suitable building of its own.

LONDON LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent)

GENERAL NEWS.

April 27.

I wrote to you yesterday in relation to the Affirmation Bill and other trials the old sentiments of our good people are undergoing. I would not refer to the subject but for Mr. Gladstone's speech last night in the resumed debate, which was again adjourned. Mr. Gladstone is thought to have made one of his grandest oratorical efforts in endeavouring to persuade a narrow-minded Opposition that they are really injuring the interests of religion. Of course, arguments addressed to an Irish or Tory Opposition are thrown away but there was some subtlety in his quoting, with fine dramatic effect, what he called the majestic lines from Lucretius—

"Omnis enim per se divum natura

to show that whether or no "the gods who haunt the lucid interspace of world and world, where never creeps a cloud or moves a wind," are gained by favour or moved by anger, and whether or no, as Lucretius says, they in their superior repose are removed from our wants, cares and concerns, still if not only religion, but a certain form of religion, is thought essential to mortals, and to British mortals in particular, the great question for fanatics is to consider whether they are not driving us, as Mr. Gladstone says, into dividing religion into what can and what cannot be dispensed with.

The same point has, of course, been ludicrously illustrated in the gradual lowering of the test from a Church of England test to a Christian test, and from a Christian to a Theistical. All that is now asked is to go on. We have already, as Mr. Gladstone reminds us, placed Christianity in the category of things that can be dispensed with. It is now scarcely worth while for any wretched contractor, on becoming an M.P., to ask himself the question—

"The gods, the gods,
If all be atoms, now, then, should the gods,
Being atomic, not be dissoluble,
Not follow the great law?"

A fine specimen is this, by the way, of our Poet-Laureate's high-falutin, when he leaves lyric poetry to dabble in philosophy. It is almost worse than plain Mr. Tyndall leaving his apron in the laboratory, and starting off to preach eloquently the Gospel, according to Democritus. Tyndall's experiments are better than his preaching, and had Mr. Gladstone tackled the affirmation question in a practical and thorough way, from the first, he would have done more good than sermonizing on a text from Lucretius.

The dynamite conspiracy inquiry is going slowly. The seven men charged with being in possession of nitro-glycerine, for felonious purposes, have been examined and again remanded It is thought they will not be brought up again for a fortnight, when fresh evidence is expected from the United States, where, by-the-bye, both people and the Legislature seem roused to a sense of duty in preventing Irish conspiracies for the needless sacrifice of life and property in a foreign country. The Conservative element in the Philadelphia Convention have so far succeeded in dominating the Rossa faction, and the dynamite party is for the moment cowed. The question at issue is the merging of all societies into one—the National League of Ireland.

The trial of Kelly was rather a scare to the Government. On two separate trials the jury have disagreed. Fagan, however, was convicted to-day and sentenced to death. The day appointed for his execution is the 28th of May.

Beyond these Irish matters, there is absolutely nothing to notice. The city articles are as uninteresting as the rest of the newspapers. From men in business I hear complaints of dulness generally in trade, but I find on investigation the complaints refer to particular trades, such as the Australian. The export trade, as far as regards ordinary articles of commerce, is, no doubt, as dull as the London Stock-Exchange at this moment; but what they call "territory business" in Australia—railway and land speculations—is brisk, and in England the engineering firms are so full of work that many orders have to go to Belgium.

An important change in the Bankruptcy Bill was made in the Grand Committee yesterday, the proceedings of which are not reported at all in the Times, and are cut down to a paragraph in most of the morning papers.

On the motion of Mr. A. O'Connor, Mr. Chamberlain accepted, on behalf of the Government, "that no composition or scheme shall be binding on the creditors, unless it is accepted by a resolution passed by a majority in number representing three-fourths in value of all the creditors of a bankrupt."

The effect of this amendment is practically to abolish liquidation by arrangement, and to force every debtor who cannot pay twenty shillings in the pound to become a bankrupt. This is an advance upon the stringent terms of the Ministerial Bill, but it was accepted unanimously by the Committee.

Dishonest debtors will hedceforth have to discover some new way of swindling their creditors legally, now that the favourite device of liquidating by arrangemeni is so ruthlessly suppressed.

THE QUEEN.

It is stated authoritatively that the Queen is better, the knee-joint having become easier and more supple. As, however, it will be a fortnight before Her Majesty is able to stand, it is exceedingly improbable that Her Majesty will be present at the Drawing-Room which is to take place early next month.

The Galileo's Mails.

London, April 28th.

The Prince of Wales, at the command of the Queen, held a levee at St. James's Palace on Monday. Mr. Gladstone, the Lord Chancellor, and other Ministers attended.

The Duke and Duchess of Albany left London for Paris on Tuesday.

The Duchess of Albany, accompanied by the Duke, on Saturday afternoon laid the foundation-stone of the new schools in the precincts of the Savoy, London. Mr. Dodson as Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, and Mr. Childers as an old Savoyard, took part in the proceedings.

Sir Edward Thornton has gone to Moscow to inspect the apartments to be occupied by the British Embassy there during the coronation festivities.

His Excellency the Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland arrived on Wednesday at Ballina, on his visit to the west. A large concourse assembled to see the Viceroy, but there was no demonstration of feeling. The Lord-Lieutenant afterwards strolled through the town, without escort, to visit public institutions.

Just before the numbers were hoisted for the Two Thousand Guineas race on Wednesday, at Newmarket, Prince Batthyany, the owner of Fulemen, a hitherto prominent favourite for the Derby, fell down in a fit, and shortly afterwards expired.

The Exchequer returns from April 1st to April 21st show—Receipts 6,193,232; expenditure, 7,431,473; balances, £5,350,634. Corresponding period last year—Receipts, £5,549,289; expenditure, 7,309,643; balances, £3,639,552.

On Saturday a deputation from the electric lighting companies waited upon Mr. Chamberlain with reference to regulations imposed upon companies seeking electric lighting powers. In reply, Mr. Chamberlain said the Board had considered it necessary to require a deposit with the local authority in order to distinguish between "bona fide" and bogus companies. With regard to the power of transfer, it was desirable that that should be controlled by the department.

Two poachers were found guilty at Glasgow on Thursday of murdering two gamekeepers, near Port Glasgow, and were thereupon sentenced to be hanged.

The second trial of Timothy Kelly for the Phœnix Park murders was opened in Dublin on Monday, and brought to a close on Wednesday. The jury, after hearing the address of the judge, retired, and remained away about an hour. They then returned to court and intimated that an agreement was impossible. His lordship sent them back again, and every effort was made to induce an agreement, but without avail, and the assurance being given that there was no hope of unanimity, they were discharged. The prisoner Fagan was then arraigned and put upon his trial, and independent evidence given that he was in the park on the evening of the 6th May. Fagan's trial was continued on Thursday in Dublin, and the case for the Crown finished. The defence, like those preceding, was an attempt to prove that he could not be in the park during the assassination, and several witnesses, two of them ladies from Liverpool, were called in his behalf.

Two Anarchists have been sentenced at Moulins each to six months' imprisonment.

At Toulon, transports are being prepared for the conveyance of troops to Tonquin. It has been decided to send a brigade of Marine Infantry, 3,000 strong, with artillery. A telegram states that the despatch from M. Kergaradec, conveying the answer of the Court of Hue, cannot arrive before May 10th, and, should it prove unfavourable, operations will commence about six or eight weeks later. It is believed that the Emperor will resist. He has an army of 1000 warriors, aided by a large number of undisciplined militia. The total strength of the expedition will be 4,000 men and 12 guns. They will establish a blockade on the coast with 24 vessels of war.

In the Lower House of the Prussian Diet, on Wednesday, Dr. Windthorst's motion in favour of an abrogation of the existing restrictions on the celebration of Roman Catholic services was rejected by a majority of 229 to 133. A motion brought forward by the Conservatives, calling for an organic revision of the May Laws, was, however, notwithstanding the opposition of the Government, afterwards carried by a majority of 209 to 154.

According to intelligence from St. Petersburg, the Russian consul at Trebizonde has reported to M. De Giers, the Minister for Foreign Affairs, that the English Government are endeavouring to shake the confidence of the Turkish authorities in the Russian ways of transit to Persia, hoping to get the Erzeroum route into their own hands, and deprive the Russians of the transport trade to Persia through Armenia.

It is reported from Berlin that a meeting has been arranged to take place between the Crown Prince of Germany and the King of Italy.

Sir Hercules Robinson has left Capetown for England.

Liverpool was the scene of a very destructive fire on Saturday. It broke out in Messrs. E. Bates and Co.'s warehouse, Lancelots-hey, stored with cotton and jute. The flames spread to the adjoining warehouses and offices, and were not got under control till property of the value of about a quarter of a million had been destroyed.

In the evidence given by him on Tuesday before the Channel Tunnel Committee, Sir E. Watkin said he thought it would not be unreasonable if the shareholders were asked to build a fort to defend the English mouth of the cutting.

Shakespeare's birthday is this year being celebrated as usual in Stratford-on-Avon, and the town has put on a holiday aspect in honour of the event.

The principal business transacted at the Philadelphia Fenian Convention on Wednesday was the adoption of a resolution adjourning the Land League "sine die," provided that the Convention succeeded in forming a union of all patriotic Irish bodies on the American continent into a new organisation supporting the National League of Ireland.

The second floor of a warehouse in Oldhall-street, Liverpool, collapsed on Thursday, burying four men, two of whom were killed and the other seriously injured.

ANOTHER MURDER CONSPIRACY.

DISCLOSURES BY AN INFORMER.

In the Northern Divisional Police-court, Dublin, this afternoon, the Prisoner, Sylvester Kingston, who was remanded last week on the charge of conspiracy, and Thomas Gibley, arrested last night in Dublin, were brought forward. The Chief Magistrate, Mr. O'Donell, presided. Mr. Anderson appeared for the Crown, and the Prisoners were defended by Mr. M'Cune.—The charge brought against both men was of conspiracy to murder a man named Joseph Poole. Thomas Devine, the first witness called, said that he had been in Kilmainham Prison. It appeared that he had been examined in prison by Mr. Curran, and his depositions on that occasion were then read. They stated that Devine, an informer, had in 1867 joined the Fenian Society, and since then he had been in France. He detailed his return to Dublin, and joined the Inner Circle of a Secret Society, of which he was afterwards made officer. In this society Lamie, the informer, was centre, and Sweeny subcentre. The deposition then spoke of the extensive working of the organisation, after which it dealt with the proposed removal of the man Poole, who had become obnoxious to the society. It seemed there had been a division in the party, and Poole had been a malcontent. It was ultimately decided by the chiefs that Poole should die. They had a meeting one evening about the time of the attempted murder of Judge Lawson. It now, at this part of the proceedings, became evident that the attack on Judge Lawson was the work of this society. (A third prisoner was at this time put into the dock). The deposition detailed several nights' adventures, from which it appeared that Dowling, lately sent to penal servitude, was a member of the society. It also spoke of a night's search for Peole, when they were accosted by Constable Cox, Stratford, and other officers in Abbey-street. When Constable Cox met his death, witness had not heard of the Invincibles, though he had heard of several of them since. While he was a member of the Vigilance Society the names of Messrs. Jenkinson and Mallon were mentioned for removal. A meeting was held in a house in Brunswick-street, at which Poole was tried, and the three Prisoners were present-Mr. M'Cune, the Prisoners' solicitor, said that he would slightly cross-examine the Witness, though he would not finish to-day. In reply to Mr. M'Cune, Witness said that he had been in prison on a charge of murder. He only became an informer last Saturday. Before that day he had never given information. He was introduced to the Vigilance Society Committee by Lamie, and was, he stated, in the November of 1882, sworn in on a prayer-book in prison. He had read in the newspapers the evidence of Carey and Farrell. He knew neither men as members of the Vigilance Committee. Witness had heard of what was called the directory, but he did not know what it was. For becoming informer he expected his discharge, but no money. Mr. Anderson, on behalf of the Crown, then asked for a remand, and the Magistrate agreed to adjourn the case till Friday, at one o'clock.

Eight fresh warrants have been issued for arrests in Dublin, and will be immediately executed.

Policemen are luckier than authors. The author has to oudgel his own brains for a living, while the policeman oudgels other folks.

LATEST FROM BRAZIL.

The legislative pro eedings possess as yet little interest and have been chiefly confined to consideration of bills of no great importance lying over from last year. The Senate, however, has passed two bills favouring students of influence, and the Deputies have rather compromised the credit of the government and country by throwing out the bill giving effect to the arbitration which awarded 200,000$ to the deceased Italian Tripoti, founder of a colony in Brazil.

The report of the Minister of Finance calculates that the collections of the current financial year, ending June 30th, will reach only 127,972,-047$, while expenditure, including the 24,792,240$ covered by special credits and consisting chiefly of outlays on railways, waterworks, &c., has been authorized to the amount of 155,-384,047$, so that the deficit will be about 27,400,000$, of which, however, only about 23,800,000$ has to be met by direct borrowing, the net Deposits affording a Treasury resource of about 3,500,000$ and the issue of nickel coinage a further one of 141,200$. As the law governing the present financial year extends to the next, the deficit of 1883-84 will probably be about the same, as importation shows no progress unless the revenue from exportation be augmented by a rise in the value of coffee and by better sugar and cotton harvests in the north.

The report considers necessary strict economy and abstinence from public works not absolutely needed to complete existing undertakings, and also the imposition of new taxes. It also approves of the recommendation of the parliamentary commission that certain taxes, now yielding 5,000:000$ annually, should be handed over to the provinces and that, to help to fill the void thus caused, resort should be made to an income tax. The Minister does not propose to deal with the currency question, but suggests, as a means of in great part eliminating the depreciating influence of the government's requirements for payments abroad to the amount of 30,000,000$, to require at the five chief ports payment in gold of one third of the import duties, which would furnish about 21,000,000$ of gold. To compensate for this further demand on importation he proposes to remove the 10 per cent with which the 50 per cent Additional Tax on the import duties has been increased by the ruling law.

Promulgation has been given to the decree of April 7th conceding to the Bahia and S. Francisco Railway Company, 30 years privilege of a branch from Alagoinbas to Timbo, in Bahia, together with 6 per cent on 3,000,-000$ during the same time.

At S. Paulo, on the 8th, the Relacao decided on the case of three members of the Coritiba Commission of Commerce, who appeared, accompanied by their lawyers, to seek relief from intended arrest on the charge of sedition during the commercial strike in Parana, at the end of March, against the 1½ per cent provincial tax on sales. The court held that the patients could not legally be charged with sedition and at most could be with a bailable offence and one in which preventive arrest could not be made. The illegal constraint being proved by documents, the relief sought was granted to all the members of the Committee.

At Pernambuco a double tragedy occurred last month, which resulted in the death of three members of a distinguished family and the charge of murder against 2 others.

Yellow fever continues in decline and has ranged only between four and eight daily in the mortuary returns published since our last.

At Sacramento a seizure of arms and munitions from Buenos Aires for the Blancos in Uruguay has been made.

The Central American Telegraph Company's submarine cable between Pará and Cayenne and George Town is to be sold in London on 22nd of May, by order of Mr Justice Kay, in Chancery.

IRELAND.

"NO. 1" AND THE GOVERNMENT.

It is reported in Dublin that P. Tynan ("No. 1"), having made good his retreat to Mexico, and being now beyond the clutches of the law, there is some probability of the Government entering into negotiations with him for a disclosure of the valuable information he undoubtedly has in his possession as to the real heads of the "Invincibles," and the sources from which the money was derived. Whatever step the Government may take, however, it is said to be certain that Tynan is not above the tender influences of hard cash, and that an intimation to this effect has already reached them. The view the Government is disposed to take is stated at present to be this: Tynan is to all intents and purposes beyond their reach. They are well aware—as, indeed, is every one who knows him and his antecedents—that he could not himself have supplied the sinews of war, and must have been acting for much more important personages than himself, and that, therefore, by making terms with him, they may be able to make a most valuable bargain.

A regular attendant at discussions held in the Cogers' Hall, Fleet-street, states that about two years and a half ago he made the acquaintance of Tynan. He used to meet him at the same place at frequent intervals until last July, when "No. 1" disappeared from his old haunts. Tynan, he says, often took part in the debates, and in his speeches and in conversation expressed extreme opinions on Irish questions, avowing himself to be an advocate of the most violent measures. At first the suspect lived in the neighbourhood of Russell-square, and was believed by his associates to be a single man, until much to their surprise, he was one day noticed with his wife, accompanied by another lady and a gentleman, at a theatre. Tynan gave out that he was in the hardware trade, and also confessed to having been a soldier, but never mentioned his connection with the volunteers. Latterly he was known to have lived in ths parish of Camberwell, and it was his custom to entertain friends at his house, especially inviting those whom he had favourably impressed with his views. A stranger, seemingly possessed of large sums of money, occasionally went with Tynan to the Cogers' Hall, and freely declared his Fenian sympathies. Of late this individual has not been seen. At the headquarters of the 13th Middlesex, Buckingham Palace-road, it appears that Tynan joined the corps in March, 1882, and the latest record of his attendance at drill was made in the month of January. He was introduced in due form by an Irish member of the corps, passed by the captain, and accepted by the commanding officer.

A correspondent writes:—

"When in 1865 P. J. Tynan—'No. 1'—came to London in search of employment, he was induced by a mutual friend to try and obtain him a situation. Failing, Tynan went back to Kingstown, but returned to London in February, 1866, in more desperate circumstances than ever. In fact, so critical was his position that he threatened rather than return to face his wife and children, to commit suicide. At the end of seven weeks Tynan, through gross falsehood and misrepresentation, was appointed by a large firm as a traveller in Ireland at a salary of £300 a-year, with £1 a-day for expenses. He was profuse in his professions of gratitude to me in return for what I had done for him, and asked me to come to Kingstown and stay four or five months every year. I called on him at his house in October, and was received very coolly, and he expressed his regret that he could not show me any hospitality, as he had recently lost his child, and was going away in the morning. I met him in London and insulted him in the street, telling him that unless he gave me his real address I would advertize him in the daily papers. I told him he was a mean, contemptible cur, who had obtained board and lodging at my residence when he was starving in London. He walked on like a dog who had lost his tail, and never spoke aword.

New York. April 16.

The statement that Tynan, the notorious "No. 1" of the Invincibles, has gone to Mexico, is unfounded. He is living in New York State with his family, and though not courting observation, moves about freely under an alias.

EDITOR'S TABLE

The Clerk of the Weather smoothed his wrinkled front on Thursday morning, Eolus let loose a rasping "pampero," and there was genuine "Queen's weather" both on the 24th and 25th. The fetes, the illuminations, even the very rockets and squibs and Catherine wheels, were the "mismisimos" as for the last 73 years. The sight in the Cathedral was very grand indeed. The Archbishop, Dean Dillon and the Chapter received President Roca, who wore military uniform, at the door of the church. The Te Deum was very fairly sung, and when the sun shone in suddenly on the gorgeous uniforms of all kinds, the dancing plumes and steel scabbards, and on the mass of gold and light on the high altar, while the organ and choir rolled out "Te Deum Laudamus," the scene was grand, brilliant and solemn all at once. A pleasing novelty was the quantity of lovely flowers and wreaths on and round San Martin's statue. The most beautiful wreath of the lot was that sent by Dean Dillon. The plaza, and indeed all the leading streets, were thronged all day. We were struck by the subdued tints of all the ladies' drssscs, so different from the "loud" styles of former years. Now and then a mature beauty of the "keeping-up-appearances class," dressed in yellow silk or blue satin, was to be met with, but the general tone of the dress of all high and well-to do dames and damsels was "neutral." The little ladies of from 4 to 8 years beat all their elders. No city in the world can produce such a proportion of elegantly dressed "beauties" of this tender age as Buenos Aires. We lost our heart ten dozen times on Friday to as many little "belles," who seemed perfectly well aware of their own attractions. The illuminations and fireworks were very good indeed, and there were no accidents. The troops looked very well as a rule, except the cavalry, whose appearance was utterly spoiled by dirty horses, dirty bridles, dirty boots, rusty bits, stirrups and spurs, and a variety of shape in the latter, both amongst officers and men, that was anything but military. "En fin," the May Fetes this year were a success in every way.

The Junior Athletes held their meeting at Palermo on Friday, in spite of the course being in a wretched condition from the previous day's rain. There was a fair attendance. The following were the winners:—First race J Erhart; 2nd, J Milne 3rd, E Erhart; 4th, H Whittaker; 5th, T Williams - 6th, H Von Honten; 7th, J R Martin, dale; 8th, A Erhart; 9th, E Erhart; 10th, E Erhart; 11th, J R Martindale; 12th, A Wilkinson; 13, T Milne; 14th, E Erhart; 15th, E Erhart; 16th, H Thompson; 17th, J R Martindale; 18th J R Mitchell; 19th, C J Murray; 20th, W Ryan.

The Valparaiso has brought dates from Europe to May 2nd. The Quirinal and the Vatican are about to be friends again, thanks, it is said, to good Queen Margaret's influence over her Royal spouse. The Times is greatly in favour of another Suez Canal, to be exclusively English, but the other nations will be allowed to use it in time of peace. There will be twelve trains per hour between France and England in the Channel Tunnel—when made.

We publish to-day the list of subscribers to the Admiral Brown Statue Fund. The cost of the statue is estimated at $200,000%. The committee appointed to carry out the work are Vice-Admiral Maximo Cordero, Commodore B. Cordero, Dr. Pelligrini, Dr. Mariano Demaria, Dean Dillon, Dr. Huergo, and S. B. Gahan, who will gladly receive subscriptions. It is time to make a long, strong, and altogether push to do justice to the memory of the grand old sailor, and we hope that this time there will be no mistake about it.

Havas telegraphs that "the English horse" won the Derby. We have reason to believe that the name of the winner is San Blas. It speaks well for the Plate to see English owners of race-horses adopting Argentine names for their animals.

In every fashionable abode now the "High Life Licor" of the new and enterprising firm of John S. Dillon and Co. is to be found. All the imported liqueurs have had to yield to this delicious one, which has made its way into the highest public favour at a single bound.

The immense superiority of the wooden pavement in Calle Suipacha over stone or any other rival was fully proved during the heavy rains early last week. There were no pools of mud or water in the square where it is laid down; no loose tram rails, or any other of the numerous inconveniences to be seen after heavy rain on stone pavement. Perhaps the greatest advantage of this Nettleship pavement is its grip on the tram rails. In the stone-paved streets the rails are either above or below the level of the street after a rainfall; but with the Nettleship pavement the rails will remain even for years and years, without a penny of extra cost to either the Companies or the Municipality.

The housewife who makes a confidant of her washerwoman sows the wind.

Little Willie having hunted in all the corners for his shoe at last gave them up, and climbing on a chair betook himself to a dictionary. "Papa always looks in it to find things, and I'm looktng in it to find my shoes."

The Prensa published yesterday a highly important telegram from Valparaiso, to the effect that peace has been definitely signed between Chile and Peru, General Iglesias representing the latter! May this good news be true!

Our readers will remember that Dn. Patricio Lynch appealed to the Supreme Court, asserting his right to refuse paying the Cattle-Marking Tax imposed by the Law of 1881. The case has just been decided, and, as we expected, in favonr of the Government. The Supreme Court is of opinion that the Legislative Body can derogate any law passed by itself, even though that law is a safeguard and guarantee of private property. It is well that the public should know this, so that in future they may take the pledge and guarantee of the Legislature at its true valne.——Southern Cross.

A New Bedford father told his little boy to speak more gently to his sister, for if he did not she would be cross when she grew older." "Then there will be three of us," he replied, "you and me and Alice."

The Mendoza Exhibition was opened on Friday with great eclat. Wine, wheat, fruit, maize and flour are the principal exhibits, and the telegrams say they are splendid.

The Industrial Club gave a grand "lonche" to its members and friends on the 25th. It was a most agreeable gathering.

The final ceremony of the Czar's coronation takes place to-day. We were right in saying that the Nihilists could do nothing. The moral effect of the coronation on the Russian masses will be great, and perhaps kill Nihilism.

In Cordoba some coiners have been trying to earn a dishonest penny by plating copper cents and passing them off for silver 20 cents.

"What can I do for you to induce you to go to bed now?" asked a mamma of her five year old boy. "You can let me stay up a longer," was the youngster's response.

A Scotch person said, somewhat sarcastically, of a hard drinker, that "he put an enemy in his mouth to steal his brains, but that the enemy, after a thorough and protracted search, returned without anything."

The Capital of Rosario published on the 24th a splendid article on Her Majesty's birthday, for which we beg to thank our esteemed colleague. There was a suddeu outburst of "entusiasmo frenetico" on that day amongst the "empleados de Justicia," caused by their having received over a year's arrears of salary. Some of the unfortunates all but went clean "daft" with exuberant delight.

A solemn funeral service will be celebrated on Tuesday next, in the Concepcion Church, at 9 a.m., for the late much lamented Father John P. Gormley.

For clear, bracing winter weather, there is nothing like that of Montana. At a hotel fire there lately, a guest in the fifth story put his head out of the window, and his breath froze so solid that, after fastening one end of it to the bed-post he slid down on the main stem to the ground and escaped. —Philadelphia News.

By far the nicest thing in the illumination line on Friday night was the gas and glass device at Mr. W. Cranwell's botica in Calle Rivadavia. In the way of beauty and good taste it beat the whole Plaza Victoria and everything else in town.

England's total of postal area is but about 122,000 square miles, whilst that of the United States is not far from 3,-500,000 square miles.

Governor Roach will resume the reins of Government on June 1st.

There was a rumour yesterday that Sr. Obarrio, secretary to the Rt. Hon. the Lord Mayor, had resigned, but we were happy to hear it was not true. Mr. O. is the right man in the right place.

The Races at Palermo to-day are likely to draw a big crowd, as it is the last race meeting till next Spring, and the programme is tip-top.

Our Welsh interpreter declares that Mr. John Jones's poem in that language, which we received some days ago, is to good for publication in this world, whatever it might be in the next, so we have let it slide into the waste paper basket.

The Tandil extension will not be thrown open to the public till August. Just in time for the Spring trade and travel.

In a Chicago school recently the children were asked to give a sentence with the word "capillaoy." A little girl wrote—"I sailed across the ocean in a capillary." When asked what she meant by that, she turned to Webster's Dictionary, and triumphantly pointed out this definition—"Capillary, a fine vessel." Further investigation showed that more than 20 scholars had made the same blunder.

IN ALL LUNG AND THROAT DISEASES (excepting Inflammation), the respiratory organs are debilitated and weakened, and an invigorating tonic is a necessity before a cure can be effected. In the Pectoral of Anacahuita there is concentrated a wonderful amount of invigorating power, which, being diffusive in its nature, is carried by the blood and finds into direct contact with the affected parts, toning and strengthening them and the flaccid membranes to such a degree as to enable them to throw off the diseased condition and resume their natural functions. By using one spoonful of Lanman & Kemp's Pure Cod Liver Oil, mixed with two of the Pectoral of Anacahuita, the time required to effect a cure will be considerably shortened.

ON 'CHANGE.

May 26th, 1883

Patacon	25.00½
Cedulas A	100⅝
Cedulas E	85½
National Bank Shares	106½

Cedulas absorbed all the attention of the market, and the approaching liquidation of the month is already being felt in the operations at the ring. Over 200,000 Cedulas were sold in half an hour during the morning, and all the weakness of last Tuesday's operations disappeared. About 20,000 changed hands for cash; rates opened at 85⅜ and closed at 85½. One hundred and thirty five thousand were sold for the end of the month; rates opened at 85½ and closed at 85⅝, whilst 70,000 were sold for the end of June at 85½. The efforts of the bears were felt in operations for the end of the month and for June. Nothing was done in Series A; last operations effected at 100⅜.
Several operations in gold were reported this morning at 25.00½; there is little doing in the market.
Nothing reported in exchange circles, owing to the sailing of the F.M.S. Gironde.
National Bank Shares opened firm this morning, but the market begun to droop at the close of official hours. Eight hundred shares were marked sold on the board, four hundred for the end of the month at 106½-¼, and 400 for the end of June at 107⅛-107. The closing rates shew a falling market. Speculation bears a dead-and-alive aspect, but active operations are anticipated next week. The bulls believe in a large "descubierto"; the market is dull and the tendency looks weak.
Freights are looking up with the fine weather, and more active shipment is expected. A large quantity of produce will enter the market, when the roads outside are dry. The export of maize has scarcely begun, and shipments will be large during the winter months as the harvest is quite as large as that of last season. Prices in the market are not yet quite low enough to allow heavy shipments to Europe; but the grain is being exported at current prices to the West Indies and the Cape. As the season advances we may look forward to a drop in prices and a collateral heavy export.
Messrs. Carabassa & Co. opened their new premises to-day at the corner of Piedad and Reconquista, in front of the London and River Plate and National Banks. The new bank building is very massive and looks thoroughly business-like, and no labour has been wasted on ornamentation. The great hall is immense, fully 25x25 metres. The counters and desks are fitted to suit the conveniences of the public more than to please the eye. This bank marks an epoch, and the founder and proprietor has grown "pari passu" with the country; he began life as a clerk with $200 % per month, and his great talent and knowledge of men have raised his fortunes to the present enviable position. As a leading broker remarked today, Mr. Carabassa owed his success to the great talent of knowing how to say "no", coupled with an intimate knowledge of the market and the immense advantage of being Manager, Board of Directors, &c. in one, without the necessity of distributing dividends. The new bank building is a worthy monument of the great fortune of Messrs. Carabassa & Co., and the market wishes the bank the same great success in the new building as in the old and familiar one in the Calle Cangallo.
At the close of official hours a committee of brokers was formed to wait upon Mr. Carabassa and congratulate him on entering his magnificent premises. The corner of Piedad and Reconquista is the heart of financial Buenos Aires now, and will now become the headquarters of business, since the new Bolsa is to be raised within a hundred yards of the London and River Plate, National, Italian, Carabassa and English Banks. Five banks and a Bolsa huddled together. The corner was thronged to-day with visitors to the new Bank; all admire the architecture and the business-like appearance of the inside.
The National Transport Villarino, under Commander Spurr, leaves to-morrow morning for Patagones and Bahia Blanca, with many passengers and full cargo. On her return she will bring several hund-ed Indian captives and a large crowd of officers returning from the Nahuel Huapi expedition.
Discounts are very dull, money is abundant. Governmrnt Treasury Bills are in demand but few come out; the rates are unaltered.
The Gironde left to-day with a heavy mail. Owing to the case of yellow fever, the steamer had fewer passengers than usual. The quarantine expired this morning at 9 a.m., and passengers were glad to get ashore.
All the roads outside and near the outskirts of the city are in an awful state. Mud knee-deep is a pale idea of the stern reality of the case. The roads to the south of the city are impassable, and carts and animals are obliged to come round by the north and west. The Provincial Government should pave the main roads leading to the city.
Cedulas—
For cash E 19,000 at 85⅜-½
For May 31st E 135,000 at 85½-⅝
For June 30th E 70,000 at 85½
Sales, 224,000
National Bank Shares—
For May 31st 400 at 106½-¾
For June 30th 400 at 107⅛-107
Sales, 800
Mr. Franz Hergersberg, son of the well-known wool-dealer of Berlin, leaves on Monday for Montevideo, where he will take the Pacific boat Britannia for Europe. His visit to the R. Plate has been short, but he has travelled about the country and takes with him the very best impressions. His many friends give him a "sarao" to-night in the "Turn-Verein", and all join in wishing him a pleasant voyage and speedy return.
Advices from the North announce tremendous rains in Entre Rios and the Banda Oriental. Both the Parana and Uruguay have flooded their banks. An esteemed subscriber writes from Guaviyu that the rainfall up there amounted to 7½ inches in 24 hours—equal to 3½ month's drizzle in England.

A las 12 en punto del dia

Se dará principio a la venta por orden de su dueño el Sr. D Diego N. Carman, por falta de salud y tener que ausentarse del pais, de todas las existencias de la cabaña "El Lago."

300 animales vacunos Durham, importados y nacidos en el pais, entre las que se encuentran las celebres vacas Niñitas premiadas con los primeros premios en las Exposiciones de la Sociedad Rural Argentina y Continental, como tambien la madre y demas familia de dichos animales que no han estado en exhibition.

Los toros Waterloo Grand Duke y Endimion son los que estan actualmente al servicio de la cabaña; el primero importado de Inglaterra, por el Sr Downce, y el segundo remitido por el Sr Elia, por el cual se nos pago 25,000 ps., siendo uno de los animales que mas han llamado la atencion de los criadores mientras estuvo en nuestra casa, y que con sobrada razon escribio el Sr Elia, "que mandaba animales en los cuales tenia la seguridad de perder dinero" probandolo el hecho de no haber repetido sus remesas.

200 ovejas y carneros Lincoln, siendo una parte de ellos importados expresamente para esta cabaña, de la del Sr Clark en Inglaterra como tambien los padres que las sirven. Estos animales seria demas recomendarlos, pues ningun criador de esta raza en el pais, ha alcanzado los precios obtenidos por esta cabaña.

EN SEGUIDA

Caballos, petizos, cerdos, un tilbury de 4 ruedas y una volanta de 6 asientos, americanos verdaderos, guarniciones, etc, etc., 1 carrito ingles, 1 carro mas, 2 carretas de bueyes, 5 maquinas de segar alfalfa, 1 id para dar vuelta al pasto de las que hay muy pocas en el pais, 1 rastrillo de caballo de acero, 2 maquinas de quebrar grano, 1 de aventar, 1 piedra de afilar, 1 de rueda de sanjear y simples, todos de acero, 1 fragua, vigornia, torno, banco de carpintero, piedra y todos los utiles necesarios para una herreria, y carpinteria e infinidad de objectos para el trabajo de un establecimiento de campo.

Este establecimiento solo dista una legua de San Fernando, lo cual facilita el embarque de animales para los rios o el Estado Oriental casi sin gastos y la proximidad a la ciudad facilita el trasporte de los animales por cuales quiera de los Ferro Carriles.

Creemos inutil llamar la atencion de las personas que se dedican a los negocios de campo, sobre esta, aunque pequeña area de campo, pero que por su buena situacion se presta admirablemente ya sea para ovejas y vacas ya para la siembra de toda clase de granos.
